

Your privacy is important to us.

Blueburra is committed to the protection of personal information.

We respect your rights to privacy under the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (the 'Act') and in accordance with the Act, we are compliant with its requirements in respect of the collection, management and disclosure of your personal information.

Personal information in this policy has the meaning given to it under the Act. In summary, it is any information that can be used to personally identify you.

You do not have to provide personal information to us. However, this may affect your use of our Site or any products and services offered on it or by us.

Some information is automatically collected when this website is accessed. You may also provide information voluntarily through on-line forms and e-mail for specific service delivery purposes.

We use information for the purpose it was supplied, and such information will not be disclosed to any third party unless required by law. When you visit this website our internet Service Provider's standard web logs record anonymous information for statistical purposes only, including the date and time of your visit to the site, pages you accessed, type of browser you are using, referring site and internet address of the server accessing our site.

Why We Collect Personal Information

Personal information is collected for the purposes of providing services to you and managing our relationship with you. This occurs when for example, you seek legal advice from us, attend a seminar, sign up to receive information from us or provide services to us. We may also collect personal information from our clients, where that information is necessary to act for them. We may use your personal information as required by or authorised by law.

Security

The internet is inherently insecure. Accordingly, we cannot provide any assurance regarding the security of transmission of information you communicate to us online. Whilst, we take reasonable steps to ensure the security of all information that we collect, we cannot guarantee that the information you supply will not be intercepted while being transmitted over the Internet. Accordingly, any personal information or other information which you provide to us online is transmitted at your own risk.

Changes to this Privacy Statement

As technology is constantly changing, as is the law and marketplace practices, this privacy policy may change from time to time. Any updated versions of this privacy policy will be posted on our website and will be effective from the date of posting.

This privacy policy was last updated in October 2021.
